HOW DOES FAR INFRARED SAUNA WORK?

EMF FAR INFRARED SAUNA BY ROYAL IN FRARED HEATING®

Low EMF Infrared Saunas "Balnera S" are made of the highest quality infrared elements and unique technology developed to ensure the safest and comfortable experience while using the Infrared Sauna by Royal Infrared Heating.

LOW EMF ELECTROMAGNETIC FIELD

Electromagnetic Fields (EMF) are energy waves with frequencies below 300 hertz or cycles per second. The electromagnetic fields we encounter daily come from every day things such as power lines, radar and microwave towers, television and computer screens, motors, fluorescent lights, microwave ovens, cell phones, electric blankets, house wiring and hundreds of other common electrical devices.

Levels of electromagnetic fields (EMF) from human-made sources have increased steadily over the past 50-100 years. Most EMF exposures come from increased use of electricity and new technologies. In the past decades, potential adverse effects from EMF exposure on human health have been an important topic of research. Indicated that levels below 3mg are safe.

It is generally accepted that exposure to EMF should not exceed 3 milligauss. The EPA (U.S. Environmental Protection Agency) has proposed a safety standard of 3 MG. Sweden has also set a recommended safety limit of 3 MG. When EMF levels are measured inside your Royal Infrared Heating® sauna all around your seated position, EMF levels are less than 1mg.

FAR INFRARED SAUNA FEELS LIKE THE SUN

The far infrared heat feels like the sun. It does not dry air and feels very pleasant. Unlike the steam saunas, infrared saunas provide dry heat which is more comfortable for people. Since the thermal radiation from the Low EMF Carbon Fiber Plates is practically not absorbed and not scattered by the air, all the radiated energy directly reaches people and objects. While objects, in turn, transfer dry heat to the surrounding air. Therefore, infrared type of the sauna feels very pleasant and does not harm your body, skin, or muscles.
